

VETERAN Australian mining industry figure Peter Ingram has become an independent non-executive director of Mexican-focused Azure Minerals.

A geologist with more than 40 years' experience in the mining and mineral exploration industries within Australia, including 30 years in public company management, Ingram was managing director of Universal Resources prior to its merger with Vulcan Resources (he now acts as a non-executive director of Altona Minerals) and was previously managing director of Metana Minerals, Eastmet and Australia Oriental Minerals.

He was a founding councillor of the Association of Mining and Exploration Companies.
